Business and Business Architecture
Audit and Review

We use a reliable, repeatable methodology and our Business Architecture Center of Excellence (BACOE) consultants audit and review your current state and capability to perform a successful future BA implementation.

Conducting a successful Business Architecture implementation requires readiness. With BACOE's Business Architecture Audit and Review service, our consultants work with you to examine your organization's ability to execute a BA implementation effort successfully. We also help you address any gaps that would potentially stall a BA effort and develop a roadmap for preparing your organization for implementing it. After identifying any gaps, BACOE will work with you to rectify the identified deficiencies.

BACOE can assess your organization's current capacity as it relates to the requirements needed for a BA implementation. We do this methodically, establishing traceability between your organizational artifacts and strategies, and then mapping these artifacts and strategies back to our proven methodology.

We apply the BACOE methodology based on the frame of reference/ontology outlined by John Zachman, and The Business Architecture Framework.

BACOE certified architects analyze your organization's artifacts to determine its current capacity to undertake a successful BA implementation effort.

The BACOE Approach:

- An independently assessed BA implementation capacity

- BA implementation gap analysis

- Validation of a BA implementation plan

- Recommendations and roadmap for successful BA Implementation effort

- Flexible methodology that supports the incorporation of DODAF, TOGAF, and other implementation frameworks

- Reduced BA implementation costs due missing or incomplete essential artifacts
